A Touch of Class

reference

It is here, in the silence of the halls, that the hopes and dreams of aspiring artists, ministers, and musicians are recognized, the ambitions not yet spoken, that will one day change our world. You are the future, and the future is in you. The world will move on in its journey through eternity, but for right now, 1987-88, the key is in your hands.

Many doors will close behind you as doors to the future open. So unlock the door to the past, look at its pictures, read it — and remember, this book, this year, these memories, are yours. They contain a sense of pride . . . a feeling of loyalty, and . . . A Touch of Class!!

Dedication . . .

Mrs. Block

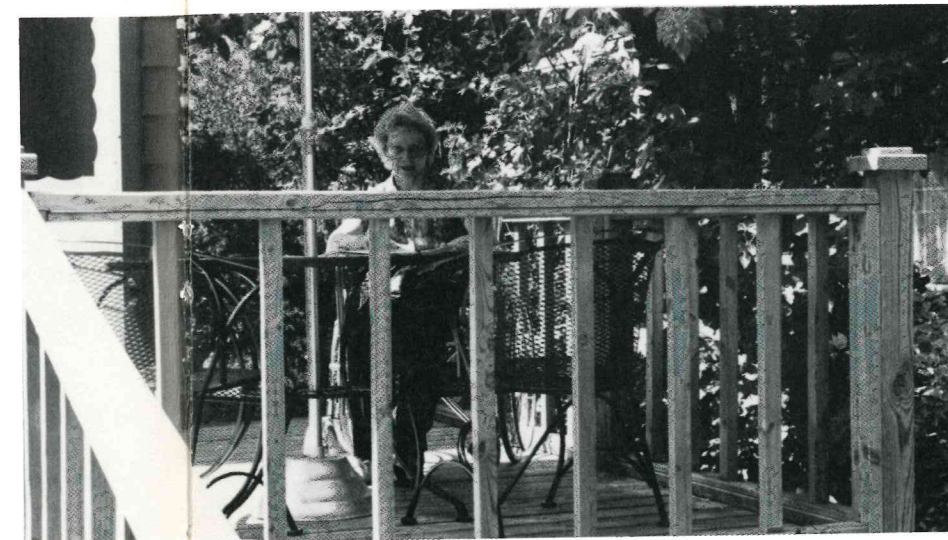

Dear Mrs. Block,

We have all taken a part of your love, patience, and devotion, and now we would like to return a portion of your excellence by dedicating this yearbook to you.

You have been with us for 18 years. Teaching us more than the facts by bringing education to life. The diligence you have displayed in maintaining the library has not been overlooked, and we greatly appreciate the time you have spent with us, placing so many cherished memories in our hearts.

Thank you so much for your tender guidance.

Lovingly,
Your "Family"

SPORTS

The Student-Faculty Football Game held anticipation for the many who turned out to watch, from the touchdown pass to Mr. Johns after a 60 yard scramble by faculty quarterback, Mr. Kahler, to the cunning handoffs executed by Jake Devera and Michael Chesnut, the fearless quarterbacks of the student team. The unbiased referee officiating the game was Coach Mathews, and the cheering section was led by Jeff Matthews, among others. Dave Mari and Kurt Martz (the relentless student rushers) gave Mr. Kahler (the artful dodger) a run for his money. Pastor Phipps and James Harris scored admirably for their respective teams while Ronald Consignado made some fabulous completions and picked up two conversion points for the students. The students played with exuberance and raw talent, but found that they had met their match. The final score of the 1987-88 Student-Faculty Football Game was 18-8 ... Faculty!

Sports Critics Say . . .

Basketball & Volleyball are my favorite sports because they are fast-moving and have a lot of action.

— Mark Kelley —

Volleyball is great because it takes teamwork. It shows how six people can work together successfully.

— Courtney Roth —

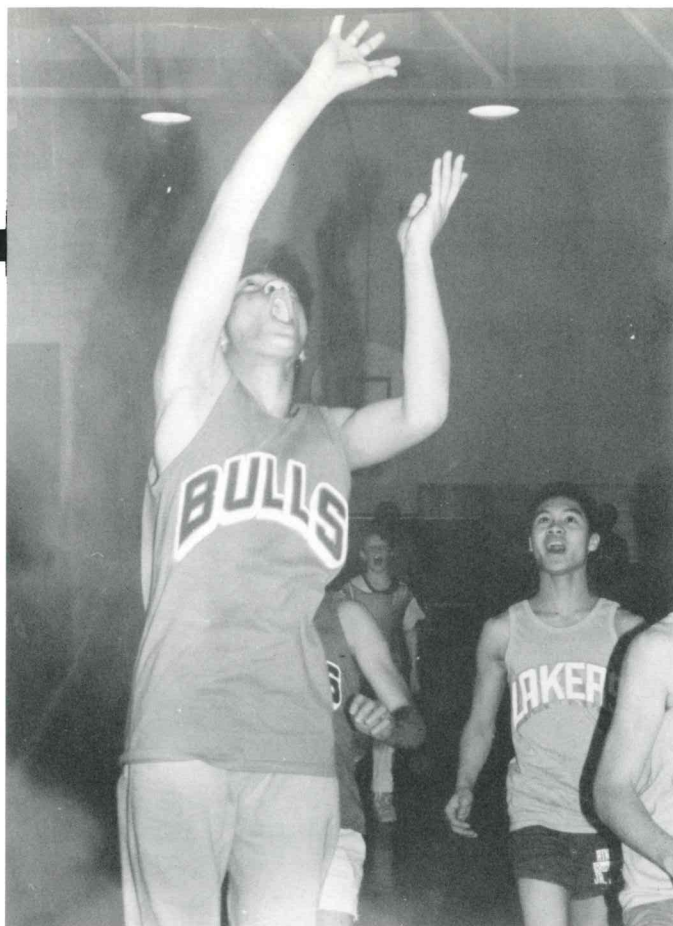

I learned how to play Baseball when I was little. Somehow I always found time to play. It's great!

— James Harris —

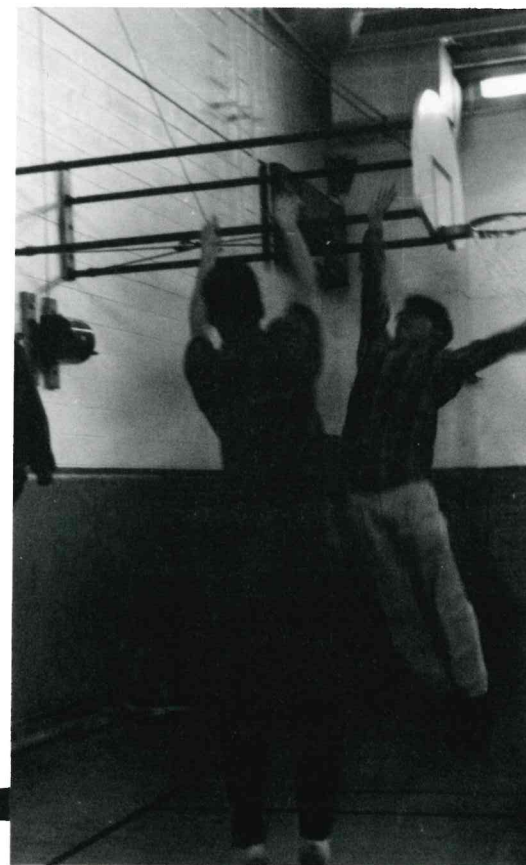

Basketball is fast-moving. There's lots of action and it never gets boring.

— Jenny Talbott —

Basketball or Ballet?

. . . THE THRILL OF VICTORY

“OK, girls, how many nails did we break this time?”

This is your school. This has been your world, and these your memories. You have found companionship . . . and loneliness. What you choose to make of them is your decision. This book is also yours, pages of stimulus designed to bring rushes of nostalgia and warm feelings, with perhaps a tinge of blue. For there have been many quiet times, overshadowed only by the happy ones. Through the haze of forgetfulness, do you recall — Bible Camp, a rousing football game, moments spent with friends, perhaps a certain someone?

At the end of each day a door closes behind you. A door that may be reopened for only brief glances down the hall of memories. To walk the corridor again is now forbidden. They were memories in the making, but have now been made.

Dreams turn to realities and realities to memories, as Time, the unpredictable artist, blends the events of a year into an intricate pattern.

Your life is laid out before you now, and with God's blessing, may all your dreams and ambitions come true. You shall never forget the 1987-88 School Year. And thus, you shall never forget . . . 'The Touch of Class' . . . that we all shared.

D. S. Penner, Principal

True education means more than the pursuit of a certain course of study. It means more than a preparation for the life that now is. It has to do with the whole being, and with the whole period of existence possible to man. It is the harmonious development of the physical, the mental, and the spiritual powers. It prepares the student for the joy of service in this world and for the higher joy of wider service in the world to come.
—Ellen White

nurse, a baker, a picture taker

Playing dress up, pretending and dreaming big dreams - child's play. It used to be so easy then to imagine, "When I grow up I wanna be..." Believe it or not, that time is fast approaching. Graduation. College. Grown-up time. Out of Sesame Street and into the fast lane.

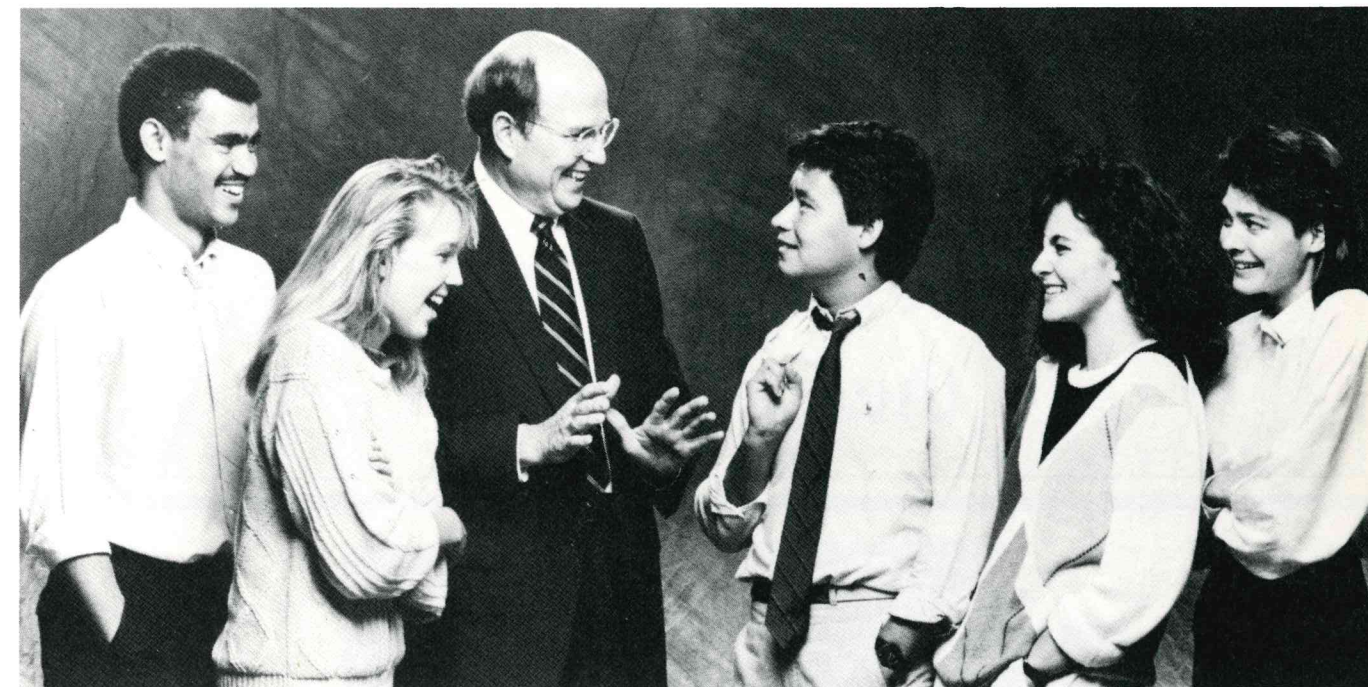

And Adventist Health System can help make that move easier. We need nurses and doctors, of course. But we also need dietary and communications personnel, physical therapists, psychologists, maintenance workers, computer specialists and admitting clerks.

Growing up isn't all fun and games, but at least the uniforms fit better. And working for an AHS hospital can make that step even more rewarding. When thinking about your career, think about Adventist Health System. Contact our personnel office for career opportunities.
