The official enrollment at the beginning of the 1981-82 school year was 334. This means many new students have enrolled replacing those students going on to the academy or high school as well as those moving to new locations.

We enjoy a very friendly school and most, if not all, of these new students have been accepted into the student body and now are part of us.

I thank God for a Christian school where we can meet the educational demands of our society and at the same time fulfill the social and spiritual needs of our youth.

We are not perfect and there is certainly room for improvement, but I feel I can welcome each new student to a wonderful school. You, along with our returning students and our staff, can make this a truly memorable year.

Lord Jesus, frame our memories of this year with spiritual holiness so that each activity we participate in may carry the blessing of heaven. Amen

To each,
He's given the potential to help answer tomorrow's questions

The questions that will beg for answers in the years ahead are hard ones — they're questions about unexplored vistas, about values, decisions, progress, and human dilemmas.

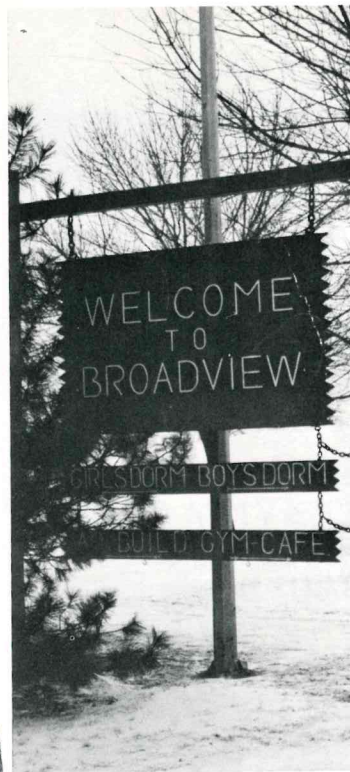

At Andrews University, our mission today is to help you get ready to deal with those questions . . . whether you plan to face them as a business person, an educator, a physician, lawyer, nurse, biologist, or as a computer scientist, an artist, a musician, an engineer or craftsman.

We believe the best preparation for the future is an educational experience that's built on time-tested truths, an education that offers you hands-on opportunity today, an education that is concerned with the quality of your life — with how you live while you're making a living.

And at Andrews, that kind of education is our purpose — because we believe that we, too, have been given the potential and opportunity to help you prepare for tomorrow's questions.
